

Email Letters from Marie

Independence

July 9, 2009

Dear Email Friends,

Well, the fourth came and went and it was just one more day of the Lord. We had our 40% off sale and the store was humming. We had a food booth outside with Sloppy Joes, potato salad and baked beans and on the inside we had soup, sandwiches and tuna salad (pasta) and a big layered salad. Of course there was dessert for all who wanted it. So the fourth was not spent celebrating our phony independence but working our ass off to stay alive because we have lost our independence to a leviathan that makes the "Redcoats" seem like a cuddly bear.

God usually backs His people into a corner so we holler "uncle." We are a "do it yourself" critter and He makes us helpless. Well, we here are screaming for help that God deliver us from evil. I mean the evil lurking in our wicked hearts. Whoops, did I say we are all evil to the core??? Yup, that is the message and the onion skins that mask this deception are stripped from all of us here at Piecemakers and we either humble ourselves and have God cover us or we are the most wretched filthy rag smiling and winking like all is well.

It is 4:30 a.m. and I really feel o.k. but my pen got carried away. I pray we all prove to be the home of the brave as we bring forth the land of the free.

Marie